Opinion

Pursuant to Article 444, Paragraph 4 of the Companies Act, we have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements, which comprise the consolidated balance sheet, the consolidated statement of income, the consolidated statement of changes in net assets and the notes to the consolidated financial statements of AICHI CORPORATION (the "Company") for the fiscal year from April 1, 2019 through March 31, 2020.

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position and results of operations of the corporate group, which consists of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries, for the period covered by the consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

Basis for the Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan. Our responsibility under the auditing standards is stated in "Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements." We are independent of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in accordance with the provisions related to professional ethics in Japan, and are fulfilling other ethical responsibilities as an auditor. We believe that we have obtained sufficient and appropriate audit evidence to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and the Audit and Supervisory Committee for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, and for designing and operating such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing whether it is appropriate to prepare the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the premise of a going concern, and for disclosing matters relating to going concern when it is required to do so in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

The Audit and Supervisory Committee is responsible for monitoring the execution of Directors' duties related to designing and operating the financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our responsibility is to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements from an independent standpoint in an audit report, based on our audit. Misstatements can occur as a result of fraud or error, and are deemed material if they can be reasonably expected to, either individually or collectively, influence the decisions of users taken on the basis of the consolidated financial statements.

We make professional judgment in the audit process in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in Japan, and perform the following while maintaining professional skepticism.

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. Design and implement audit procedures to address the risks of material misstatement. The audit procedures shall be selected and applied as determined by the auditor. In addition, sufficient and appropriate audit evidence shall be obtained to provide a basis for the audit opinion.
- In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, although the purpose of the audit of the consolidated financial statements is not to express an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control.
- Assess the appropriateness of accounting policies adopted by management and the method of their application, as well as the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management and the adequacy of related notes.
- Determine whether it is appropriate for management to prepare the consolidated financial statements on the premise of a going concern and, based on the audit evidence obtained, determine whether there is a significant uncertainty in regard to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the entity's ability to continue as a going concern. If there is a significant uncertainty concerning the premise of a going concern, the auditor is required to call attention to the notes to the consolidated financial statements in the audit report, or if the notes to the consolidated financial statements pertaining to the significant uncertainty are inappropriate, issue a modified opinion on the consolidated financial statements. While the conclusions of the auditor are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of the audit report, depending on future events or conditions, an entity may be unable to continue as a going concern.
- Besides assessing whether the presentation of and notes to the consolidated financial statements are in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan, assess the presentation, structure, and content of the consolidated financial statements including related notes, and whether the consolidated financial statements fairly present the transactions and accounting events on which they are based.
- Obtain sufficient and appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the Company and its consolidated subsidiaries in order to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. The auditor is responsible for instructing, supervising, and implementing the audit of the consolidated financial statements, and is solely responsible for the audit opinion.

We communicate with the Audit and Supervisory Committee regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the Audit and Supervisory Committee with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Interest

Our firm and engagement partners have no interests in the Company or its consolidated subsidiaries requiring disclosure under the provisions of the Certified Public Accountants Act of Japan.

3. Fiscal year of consolidated subsidiaries

Although the fiscal year end date of Zhejiang Aichi Industrial Machinery Co., Ltd. is December 31, when preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Company uses the subsidiary's provisional financial statements, which are calculated assuming the fiscal year end date is March 31.

4. Accounting policies

(1) Valuation method of significant assets

① Inventories

Inventories are stated at cost (write-down due to decreased profitability).

Finished goods and work in process are evaluated using the specific identification method.

Raw materials are mainly stated at cost, cost being determined by the moving average method.

Supplies are stated at cost, cost being determined by the last purchase price method.

② Securities

Securities are classified in accordance with "Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments."

Available-for-sale securities whose market quotations are available are stated at fair value. Net unrealized gains or losses are reported as a separate component in net assets, net of applicable income taxes. Gains and losses on disposition are computed based on the moving average method.

Available-for-sale securities whose market quotations are not available are stated at cost, cost being determined by the moving average method.

(2) Method of depreciation or amortization

- ① Property, plant and equipment (except for leased assets) are depreciated mainly on the declining-balance method. In addition, buildings (except for facilities attached to buildings) acquired on and after April 1, 1998 and facilities attached to buildings and structures acquired on and after April 1, 2016 are depreciated on the straight-line method.
- ② Intangible assets (except for leased assets) are amortized based on the straight-line method. In addition, software for internal use is amortized on the straight-line method over estimated useful lives (5 years).
 - Goodwill is amortized on the straight-line method over four years.
- 3 Depreciation of leased assets regarding finance leases other than those for which the ownership of the leased items is transferred to the lessee is computed with the straight-line method over the lease period with no residual value.

(3) Significant allowances and provisions

- Allowance for doubtful accounts
 - The Company provides for estimated losses on accounts receivable based on prior bad debt experience and a review of existing receivable balances. The Company reviews individual financial condition for doubtful or troubled receivables and provides for losses on uncorrectable amounts. In addition, general reserve for other accounts receivable is provided based on historical loss experience for certain past periods.
- Provision for bonuses for directors (and other officers)
 The Company provides for estimated payment of bonuses to directors.
- ③ Provision for product warranties
 - The Company provides for estimated warranty costs based on the Company's prior experience and estimated costs to be incurred individually calculated for certain products.
- ④ Provision for retirement benefits for directors (and other officers)
 The Company provides for estimated cost for retirement benefits to directors based on the amount which would be payable under internal rules if all directors retired at fiscal year end date.

(4) Retirement benefits

- ① Method of attributing projected benefit obligation to periods
 In calculating retirement benefit obligation, projected benefit obligation attributed to the current fiscal year is determined using the benefit formula basis.
- ② Calculation treatment for actuarial gains or losses

 Actuarial gains or losses are amortized in the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the gain or loss is recognized by the straight-line method over a fixed period (10 years), which is shorter than the average remaining years of service of the employees.

(5) Hedge accounting

Designated hedge accounting ("Furiate-shori") is applied for foreign currency forward contracts that meet qualifications for designated hedge accounting.

(6) Other important matters for preparing consolidated financial statements

Consumption taxes

Notes to Financial Instruments

1. Status of financial instruments held by the Group

The Group's fund management is limited primarily to short-term deposits while working capital and capital investments are financed by the Group's own fund without involving borrowings from banks or other financial institutions.

Credit risk of customers in respect to notes and accounts receivable – trade is mitigated by credit control. Investment securities held by the Group are mainly company shares, and the fair values of listed stocks are verified on a quarterly basis.

Regarding derivative transactions, we use forward exchange contracts in order to mitigate the exchange risks associated with export transactions in the normal course of our business.

2. Fair value of financial instruments

Accounts receivable – trade under designated hedge accounting ("Furiate-shori") are evaluated at an amount accounted for integrally with the forward exchange contracts.

(4) Investment securities

Fair values of shares are based on stock exchange quoted prices.

Unlisted shares (with consolidated balance sheet amount of ¥356,560 thousand) are not included in "Available-for-sale securities in (4) Investment securities," as their fair values appear extremely difficult to determine because they do not have market prices and it is impossible to estimate future cash flows.

(5) Notes and accounts payable – trade and (6) Income taxes payable

These are settled on short-term basis where their book values approximate their fair values, thus they are stated at book values.

(7) Derivative transactions

The fair values of forward exchange contracts under designated hedge accounting ("Furiate-shori") are included in the amount of accounts receivable – trade as they are accounted for integrally with accounts receivable – trade which are hedged items.

AICHI CORPORATION Notes to Financial Statements

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Valuation of securities

Securities are classified in accordance with "Accounting Standard for Financial Instruments."

Available-for-sale securities whose market quotations are available are stated at fair value. Net unrealized gains or losses are reported as a separate component in net assets, net of applicable income taxes. Gains and losses on disposition are computed based on the moving average method.

Available-for-sale securities whose market quotations are not available are stated at cost, cost being determined by the moving average method.

2. Valuation of inventories

Inventories are stated at cost (write-down due to decreased profitability).

- (1) Finished goods and work in process are evaluated using the specific identification method.
- (2) Raw materials are evaluated using the moving average method.
- (3) Supplies are stated at cost, cost being determined by the last purchase price method.

3. Method of depreciation or amortization

- (1) Property, plant and equipment (except for leased assets) are depreciated mainly on the declining-balance method. In addition, buildings (except for facilities attached to buildings) acquired on and after April 1, 1998 and facilities attached to buildings and structures acquired on and after April 1, 2016 are depreciated on the straight-line method.
- (2) Intangible assets (except for leased assets) are amortized on the straight-line method. In addition, software for internal use is amortized on the straight-line method over estimated useful lives (5 years).
- (3) Depreciation of leased assets regarding finance leases other than those for which the ownership of the leased items is transferred to the lessee is computed with the straight-line method over the lease period with no residual value.
- (4) Long-term prepaid expenses are amortized on the straight-line method.

4. Allowances and provisions

(1) Allowance for doubtful accounts

The Company provides for estimated losses on accounts receivable based on prior bad debt experience and a review of existing receivable balances. The Company reviews individual financial condition for doubtful or troubled receivables and provides for losses on uncorrectable amounts. In addition, general reserve for other accounts receivable is provided based on historical loss experience for certain past periods.

(2) Provision for bonuses for directors (and other officers)

The Company provides for estimated payment of bonuses to directors.

(3) Provision for product warranties

The Company provides for estimated warranty costs based on the Company's prior experience and estimated costs to be incurred individually calculated for certain products.

(4) Provision for retirement benefits for directors (and other officers)

The Company provides for estimated cost for retirement benefits to directors based on the amount which would be payable under internal rules if all directors retired at fiscal year end date.

(5) Provision for retirement benefits

The Company provides for estimated cost for future severance payments to employees based on actuarial present value of retirement benefit obligation and pension plan assets.

- ① Method of attributing projected benefit obligation to periods
 In calculating retirement benefit obligation, projected benefit obligation attributed to the current fiscal year is determined using the benefit formula basis.
- ② Calculation treatment for actuarial gains or losses

 Actuarial gains or losses are amortized in the fiscal year following the fiscal year in which the gain or loss is recognized by the straight-line method over a fixed period (10 years), which is shorter than the average remaining years of service of the employees.

5. Hedge accounting

Designated hedge accounting ("Furiate-shori") is applied for foreign currency forward contracts that meet qualifications for designated hedge accounting.

6. Other

(1) Accounting treatment for retirement benefits

The accounting treatment for unrecognized actuarial differences for retirement benefits differ from that of the consolidated financial statements.

(2) Consumption taxes

Transactions are recorded at amounts exclusive of consumption tax and regional consumption tax.
